February 5, 2012: $14,915.00Monsignor's Corner*What is a Catholic School?

The Catholicity of a school is a way of life that is present when gathered for prayer, in the halls and classrooms, sharing in the dining hall or the play ground. The Catholic identity of a school is real when the values, intentions and commitments of Christ guide the lives of the parents, pastor, principal, teachers and staff. In a Catholic school Christ is the model and the reason for a Catholic school.

Our faith life is real when we are connected by the Gospel – freely choosing to live a beatitude way of life in which the “ethos” or “dispositions” that guide the atmosphere of our school provide the foundations for the character building of our children as people of courage, care and compassion. The sacraments and sacramental religious symbols of our faith – the Mass and sacraments, the crucifix, heroes of the faith that we call saints, our prayer and service for others - take on real meaning because then we are doing what Jesus did 24/7 – loving, caring and reaching out to others in need. This is a beatitude culture.

At Our Lady of Peace School and in our Center for Early Learning here at Christ the Servant, we are committed to enabling our students: To recognize the goodness of God's creation and to believe in their own love-ability; To understanding Christ's own self-giving love as the attitude for responsible living; To value their giftedness as explorers in learning and creativity; and To develop a generosity of spirit and action toward those in need – truly is a beatitude way of life.

We are called to an uncompromising commitment to our Catholicity. Our faith is what has differentiated us throughout our history here at Christ the Servant – and it will be a renewed commitment to our faith that will be the distinguishing attribute that will lead us into the future.

1st Annual “Gathering of Catholic Men” Conference on Saturday March 10, 2012 at Walsh University in North Canton, Ohio. The purpose of the conference is to renew and strengthen the faith of Catholic Men. Keynote speakers are Charlie Aeschliman and John Garcia.
